[FRANCE] KIAROSTAMI'S JAPANESE I AM NEDA PREMIERES

The Cannes Film Festival will unveil the latest work from acknowledged masters of contemporary world cinema, ABBAS KIAROSTAMI.

Kiarostami is a central figure in the celebrated poetic-realist school of Iranian cinema, putting a human face on life in the fundamentalist regime of his homeland. There's a twist though: His latest film, Like SOMEONE IN LOVE, is set in Japan. And it's in Japanese.

Another Iranian film will be debuted at the festival. During the Cannes Emerging Filmmakers Showcase, one of fifteen international films to be screened is I AM NEDA, produced, written and directed by NICOLE KIAN SADIGHI. The cast includes veteran actress and producer Mary Apick, rapper and actor ApoetNomadAli and Vida Irani. I AM NEDA is the true story of one ordinary girl Neda Agha Soltan, on the backdrop of extraordinary circumstances.
